The image displays five wireframe prototypes for a personal website, arranged horizontally. Each prototype shows a different stage of the design process:

- Prototype 1: Shows a header with a photo of the user, a menu bar with Spanish and English flags, and a main section titled "Estudiante de diseño multimedia y diseño UX/UI". Below this is a "Proyectos seleccionados" section with four project cards, each featuring a large 'X' over it.
- Prototype 2: Similar to Prototype 1, but the "Proyectos seleccionados" section has been removed, leaving only the header and a "Portafolio completo" button at the bottom.
- Prototype 5: Shows a header with a photo of the user, a menu bar with Spanish and English flags, and a main section titled "Portafolio". Below this is a "Proyectos seleccionados" section with four project cards, each featuring a large 'X' over it. This prototype includes a "Contactame" form with fields for Name, Email, and Message, along with a "Enviar" button.
